Process overview

What is an Additional Permitted Subscription?

In April 2015, the Government announced changes to ISA regulations to help married couples or couples in civil partnerships maintain their ISA tax advantages following the death of their partner.

The Additional Permitted Subscription:

- Is available to surviving spouse or civil partners where the ISA investor died on or after 3 December 2014.
- where death occurs before 6 April 2018 will be equal to the deceased's ISA holdings at the date of death.
- where death occurs on or after 6 April 2018 will be equal to the deceased's ISA holdings at the date of death or, if higher, the value of the deceased's ISA holdings at the date it ceases to be a 'continuing ISA'.
- is inherited, not the assets held in the deceased's ISA.

Example

Mr Smith dies with £10,000 in his ISA at the date of his death (we assume this is higher than the value at the date of closure).

Mrs Smith inherits an Additional Permitted Subscription of £10,000, which is subject to certain restrictions. If Mr Smith has a will and it states that all of his assets will be left to his children, then Mrs Smith will inherit the allowance of £10,000 but none of the assets.

She will, however, be entitled to subscribe up to £10,000 into her ISA, in addition to her standard entitlement.

* A continuing ISA is where investments are retained in an ISA after the death of the account holder. Details about a continuing ISA and when it will close are detailed in section 3.13 of the Terms and Conditions of the Elevate General Investment Account and Stocks & Shares Individual Savings Accounts.

Where death occurs on or after 6 April 2018, surviving spouse or civil partners can apply for an Additional Permitted Subscription where a continuing ISA is still in place and the allowance available will be the ISA value as at the date of death. Alternatively they can wait until deceased's ISA is closed (for example once probate is complete) where the closing value, if higher, of the ISA will be the amount available for an Additional Permitted Subscription. Once calculated the value of the additional subscription is fixed, the surviving partner cannot apply to revalue the Additional Permitted Subscription at a later date.

Important information

The Additional Permitted Subscription procedure is in addition to the normal death claim process, as detailed in our guide Payment of death benefits – process overview. We still require sight of the original Grant of Probate and a signed instruction from all executors confirming the assets/cash are to be transferred to the spouse before we can release the money from the deceased account to enable us to start the Additional Permitted Subscription process. However, we can start the Additional Permitted Subscription process immediately where the money is coming from an external source in cash.

How can you find out the value of your client's Additional Permitted Subscription?

The value of the Additional Permitted Subscription is equal to the value of the deceased's ISA holdings at the time of their death or, where applicable, the value at the date the deceased's ISA is closed as described above. For ISA's held on Elevate you can contact us to confirm this value.

What happens if the amount of money to be subscribed under an Additional Permitted Subscription has increased above the value of the allowance?

If the value held has increased above the value of the allowance we will transfer any additional units and/or cash to the client's General Investment Account.

Who can apply for an Additional Permitted Subscription?

- Applications can be made by existing Elevate customers as well as new customers.
- They'll only be accepted in relation to deaths that occurred on or after 3 December 2014.
- They're subject to eligibility criteria as detailed in the Terms & Conditions of the Elevate General Investment Account and Elevate Stocks & Shares Individual Savings Account.
- Anyone, whether they currently invest with Elevate or are new to Elevate, can subscribe to an Additional Permitted Subscription in cash.
- To transfer existing assets in-specie, applicants will need to be an existing Elevate customer with a financial adviser. If you are representing an Elevate client who was previously non-advised then in some circumstances we may not be able to process an in-specie transfer and will therefore have to process it as cash.
- Applicants must be resident in the UK.

Please Note

We cannot accept any cheques or payments in relation to Additional Permitted Subscription until the relevant forms have been received and the eligibility criteria has been successfully met.

How can your client apply?

Your client should start by contacting you, the adviser. If you want to make an application on behalf of your client, please ensure that the correct forms are used depending on the scenario.

How can your client apply for an Additional Permitted Subscription with Elevate, where the deceased's ISA is held by a different Plan Manager?

Scenario	Forms required	Helpful tip
Your client is transferring their allowance from another provider.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Additional Permitted Subscription - Transfer to Elevate ISA. This authorises Elevate to deal with the other Plan Manager and allows us to begin the application process.</li> <li>A Transfer Declaration completed by the other ISA Plan Manager. This declaration confirms the allowance to be transferred to Elevate has not already been utilised elsewhere or will be in the future and the monetary value of the Additional Permitted Subscription being transferred.</li> </ul> We can write to the other Plan Manager on completion of the Additional Permitted Subscription - Transfer to Elevate ISA to request the Declaration – but please note they may not release this information without the spouse's written authority and may ask for additional documents to be signed. We cannot transfer the allowance or accept the subscription until the Transfer Declaration has been received.	After we receive the relevant forms from you, we will contact the ISA Plan Manager to request the funds, if applicable, along with documentation confirming the Additional Permitted Subscription has not been subscribed to. If the ISA with the other Plan Manager has been closed your client can still invest with us. However, you will need to arrange for the other Plan Manager to transfer your Additional Permitted Subscription to Elevate before you can do so. You'll need to ask the other Plan Manager to complete a Transfer Declaration form and send it to us. Please note, the surviving spouse or civil partner can also make a cash payment to top up a subscription to their Additional Permitted Subscription if required.

Is there a deadline?

Type of subscription	Deadline
'In-specie' subscriptions	Within 180 days of beneficial ownership passing to the spouse (where the deceased died in the period beginning with 3 December 2014 and ending on 5 April 2015, this is treated as occurring on either 6 April 2015, or, the actual date of the distribution of the underlying assets to the beneficiary, whichever is later).
Cash subscriptions	Within 3 years of the date of death, or if later, 180 days of the completion of the administration of the estate (where the deceased died in the period beginning with 3 December 2014 and ending on 5 April 2015, the deceased is treated as dying on 6 April 2015).

If the application is accepted, how do I key the wizard?

When we have accepted the application we will contact you to key the wizard. You can refer to the options letter we issued for the closing value - this is the maximum amount that can be subscribed, unless the deceased held a separate ISA with another provider.

On the surviving spouse's/civil partner's Elevate account, please take the following steps:

- Access the new work tab on Elevate
- New/amend product payment (including top up)
- Add new transfer to - select Elevate stocks & shares ISA
- Add transfer
- Select provider as Elevate
- Add Deceased Elevate account number
- Transfer type (can be either cash or re-reg)
- Tax year – select previous years
- Full or partial (depending if the full Additional Permitted Subscription is utilised or a partial amount)
- If it's an in-specie transfer, select the funds/number of units held by the deceased in their ISA as at either the date of death or the date their ISA ceased to be a 'continuing' ISA, which ever applies (the applicable value will be confirmed in the options letter). The total transfer value cannot exceed this amount.
- Click through the transfer wizard
- Review adviser remuneration
- Validate (this will show if any tabs need amendment)
- Submit the wizard
- Confirm via e-mail to Elevate mailbox when this has been completed

Who is the first point of contact and where are the forms located?

Please contact the Client Operations Support team on 0345 600 2399. They will be able to ensure you receive the correct forms depending on the client's needs.

Please note, the forms are not available on the Literature tab on Elevate, they are only available upon request from the Client Operations Team.

How does your client transfer an Additional Permitted Subscription away from Elevate?

The spouse will need to confirm with the new ISA manager that they'll accept the subscription (it is not guaranteed that all ISA managers will accept Additional Permitted Subscriptions). The new ISA manager must write to us to request a completed Transfer Declaration (which confirms the value of the Additional Permitted Subscription to them and includes our declarations).

The new ISA manager will need to confirm to us in writing that they accept the Additional Permitted Subscription. If applicable, we'll then arrange for the deceased's ISA account to be closed and we'll send a cheque for the value of the Additional Permitted Subscription to the new ISA Plan Manager.

Completed forms and any cheques should be returned to Elevate, PO Box 6877, Basingstoke, RG24 4RT.

Alternatively, if you follow the normal death claim process, we can pay the benefits out and you can then apply for an Additional Permitted Subscription with the Plan Manager of your choice. We will await contact from the new Plan Manager and will then provide the required information, so they can process the Additional Permitted Subscription on behalf of your client.

You should not send cheques without the relevant completed forms.

Transfers out must be carried out as cash payments and therefore cannot be processed as in-specie as transfers.
